

MAC-MAQ

Meteorology And Climate - Modeling for Air Quality

Conference

September 13-15, 2023

Call for Abstracts Extended! Due on Monday, May 8th

Exciting news! You now have more time to submit an abstract for the upcoming September MAC-MAQ Conference. We heard your concerns and we're granting an extension.

Original Due Date: Wednesday, April 26th
Extended Deadline: Monday, May 8th

Don't miss out on this chance to share your research. You can submit your abstract for consideration in up to three different sessions.

Session Topics:

- Composition and Operational Forecasting from Daily to Seasonal Scales
- Breakthrough Innovations in Atmospheric & Air Quality Modeling
- M3: Merging Measurements & Models
- Meteorology-Chemistry Coupling, Feedbacks, and Interactions
- Modeling of Processes Across Multiple Scales
- Unique/Extreme Events and their Impacts on Meteorology and Air Quality

Take advantage of this extended deadline and submit your abstract now!

Friendly Reminder: please note that speakers will need to reserve all three conference dates until the programming schedule is finalized. Additionally, we kindly request that speakers plan to attend the conference in-person. If you have any questions, please contact the Conference Manager, Olivia Schlanger at oschlanger@ucdavis.edu.

Poster Competition Reminder

We invite all undergraduate and graduate students, masters students, and post-docs (maximum 4 years after highest degree earned) to enter the inaugural MAC-MAQ Poster Competition by submitting an abstract through the portal on our website.

Submit your poster abstract before the extended deadline date!

Eligibility Criteria

- Must be an undergraduate, master, PhD student or post-doc (Maximum 4 years after highest degree earned.)
- Participants must attend the conference in-person.
- Posters must be based on MAC-MAQ 2023 program topics.
- Only one poster (abstract) per person can be entered into the competition.

Posters will be evaluated during the conference by a select panel of judges.

Submissions due on Monday, May 8th

Judgement Criteria

Each poster will be evaluated and awarded scores based on four main categories, with each category valued up to 5 points, resulting in a total possible score of 20 points.

Broader Impacts & Innovation

- Does the research demonstrate broader societal impact?
- Does this research have the potential to make a novel contribution to the overall field?

Visual Appeal of Poster Materials

- Are the components of the poster organized in a logical flow?
- Is there a good balance of visuals, text and white space?

Communication

- Are the outcomes, conclusions, implications, and uncertainties or limitations of the research clearly communicated?
- Can the presenter respond to in-depth questions about the work?

Overall Presentation

- How well does the presenter engage the audience?
- Is the presentation free of jargon and accessible to a cross-disciplinary audience?
